BOOKS AT AUCTION.

Few Book-buyers, comparatively, are aware of the facility with which a Good Library may be completed at a very small cost. At the various Auction Sales which are held in New York through the winter, often entire libraries, well selected by persons of mature judgment, are distributed to all parts of the United States. Thus, new buyers are enabled to profit by the experience of others, and at the same time make such selections as they think best. For the better co-operation in this plan, the Subscriber proposes to forward, by mail,

Catalogues of all Sales that take place in New York, Philadelphia, or Boston, and Receive Orders to Purchase.

To cover the actual expense of postage, which is required to be prepaid, he will hereafter charge the small amount of One Dollar per annum, which will not only cover the expense of all Auction Catalogues, but also of a full supply of which will be regularly mailed, and orders from which will be carefully attended to. Any gentleman forwarding One Dollar, in stamps or otherwise, may feel assured of receiving a satisfactory supply of Catalogues for one year. The Subscriber has been compelled to adopt this plan, from the great increase of his correspondence, and the necessity of somewhat limiting the supply of Catalogues.

English, French, and German

Parties replying to this notice will please send their address in full.

Norton's Literary Letter.

Earl Rivers presenting his Book, and Caxton, his printer, to Edward IV., the Queen, and Prince. From a curious MS. in the Archbishop's Library, at Lambeth. The portrait of the Prince (afterwards Edward V.) is the only one known of him, and has been engraved by Vertue among the Heads of the Kings. The person in a cap and robe of state is probably Richard, Duke of Gloucester, as he resembles the King, and as Clarence was always too great an enemy of the Queen to be distinguished by her brother. The book was printed in 1477, when Clarence was in Ireland; and in the beginning of the next year he was murdered.

The Game and Playe of the Chesse.

BY WILLIAM CAXTON.

IN our last Number of the Literary Letter, we gave a fac-simile specimen of the Biblia Pauperum, being the first or very nearly the first book printed on the continent of Europe, and we now have the pleasure of presenting to our subscribers an exact fac-simile of a page of the first book printed in England, being "The Game and Playe of the Chesse," printed by the renowned William Caxton, a few particulars of whose life, gleaned from various sources, here follow:

William Caxton, one of those imperishable names which shed a glory on the land of their birth, was born in the Weald of Kent, that southern portion of one of England's most celebrated counties, in or about the year 1410. Having served an apprenticeship to a mercer, he was afterwards employed by the Mercers' Company as their agent in the Netherlands, a position he filled with so much talent and integrity, during the long period of twenty-three years, that he was chosen as the fittest person to negotiate a commercial treaty between Edward IV. and the Duke of Burgundy. He subsequently entered the service of the celebrated Margaret, Duchess of Burgundy, the sister of Edward IV. During his varied career he had acquired the art of printing; and in compliance with the wishes of his illustrious patroness, he translated from the French of Raoul le Fevre, "Recuyell of the Historyes of Troye," and printed it in 1471, at Cologne. This is the earliest typographical production in the English language, and is now so scarce that at the Roxburghe sale a copy of it sold for £1,060. Caxton continued to exercise his new vocation for about twenty years, during which time he produced between fifty and sixty volumes, for the most part composed or translated by himself. His books are printed upon a sort of vellum paper, and the errors of the press are corrected in red ink with his own hand; what are technically called "errata" being then unknown. The year of Caxton's return to England is uncertain, but must have been previous to 1474, as he then had a press in Westminster Abbey, from whence issued the first book executed in that country, viz., "The Game and Playe of the Chesse." Caxton continued his labors throughout his life, and is supposed to have died about 1492; and was interred, according to some, in Campden, Glamorganshire, whilst other state that his remains were deposited in St. Margaret's, Westminster.

The life of Caxton has been written by the Rev. John Lewis, Minister of Margate, in Kent, London, 1737, one volume, large octavo; the reader may also consult Middleton's Dissertation on the Origin of Printing in England. "The Game of the Chesse" contains a description of the Pieces and Pawns, with twenty-four woodcuts, eight of which are repetitions of the others. The following is a correct list of these early production of English art:

1. An executioner with an ax, cutting to pieces on a block the limbs of a man. On the head, which is lying on the ground, there is a crown. Birds are seen seizing and flying away with portions of the limbs. There are buildings in the distance, and three figures, one of whom is a king, with a crown and scepter, appear looking on. 2. A figure sitting at a table with a chess-board before him, and holding one of the chess-men in his hand. This is the cut which Dr. Dibdin says is the first in the book. 3. A king and another person playing at chess. (This is the one here given in fac simile.) 4. The King at chess, seated on a throne. 5. The King and Queen. 6. The "Alphyns," now called "Bishops," in the game of chess, "in the manner of judges sittyng." 7. The Knight. 8. The "Rook," or Castle, a figure on horseback, wearing a hood, and holding a staff in his hand. From No. 9 to No. 15, inclusive, the Pawns are represented as follows: Laborers and workmen; the principal figure, representing the first Pawn, with a spade in his right hand, and a cart-whip in his left. 10. The second Pawn, a smith with his buttriss in the string of his apron, and a hammer in his right hand. 11. The third Pawn, represented as a clerk,—that is, a writer or transcriber, in the same sense as Peter Scheffer and Ulric Zell are styled clerici,—with his case of writing materials at his girdle, a pair of shears in one hand, and a large knife in the other. 12. The fourth Pawn, a man with a pair of scales, and having a purse at his girdle, representing "marchauntes or chaungers." 13. The fifth Pawn, a figure seated on a chair, having in his right hand a book, and in his left a sort of casket or box of ointments, representing a physician, spicer, or apothecary. 14. The sixth pawn, an innkeeper receiving a guest. 15. The seventh pawn, a figure with a yard measure in his right hand, a bunch of keys in his left, and an open purse at his girdle, representing "customers and tolle-gaderers." 16. The eighth Pawn, a figure with a sort of badge on his breast, near to his right shoulder, after the manner of a nobleman's retainer, and holding a pair of dice in his left hand, representing dice-players, messengers, and "currours"—that is, "couriers."

The following is the description which Caxton gives of the character of the Knight, No. 7: "The Knyght ought to be maad al armed, upon an hors, in suche wise that he have an helme on his heed, and a spere in his right hond, and coverid with his shelde, a swerde and a mace on his left syde; clad with an halberke and plates tofore his breste, legge-harnoys on his legges, spores on his heelis, on his hands hys gauntelettes; hys hors wel broken and taught and apte to battaylle, and coveryd with hys armes. When the Knyghtes been maad, they ben bayned or bathed. That is the sign that they sholde lede a new lyfe and newe maners; also, they wake alle the nyghte in prayers and orisons unto God, that he wil geve hem grace that they may gete that thyng that they may not gete by nature. The kyng or prince gyrdeth aboute them a swerde, in signe that they sholde abyde and kepen hym of whom they taken their dispences and dignyte."

The cut of the sixth or Bishop's Pawn, No. 14, "which is lykened to taverners and vytaylers," is thus described: "The sixte pawn, which stondeth before the Alphyn on the lyfte syde, is made in this forme, ffor hit is a man that hath the right hond stretched out for to calle men, and holdeth in his left honde a loof of breed and a cuppe of wyn, and on his gurdel hangyng a bondel of keyes; and this resemblith the taverners, hostelers, and sellars of vytayl; and these ought properly to be set to fore the Alphyn, as to fore a juge, for there soundeth oft tymes amonge hem contencion, noyse, and stryf, which behoveth to be determyned and trayted by the Alphyn, which is juge of the kynge."

The engraving at the head of this article will serve to show the estimation in which Caxton was held by Edward IV. and his court.

REV. JUDSON H. HOPKINS, of Ravenswood, L. I., is collecting materials for a Bibliography of the Quakers in America, which will appear in the Literary Letter. Any gentleman possessing rare books connected with this subject, will confer a favor to the cause of Bibliography by sending an accurate copy of the title of the same either to Mr. Hopkins or to Mr. C. B. Norton. Proper acknowledgments will be made in the Bibliography for all titles thus furnished.

The Public Libraries of Paris.

THE BIBLIOTHÈQUE IMPÉRIALE, whose celebrity is world-wide, was founded by King John in the 14th century; but Charles V. [1364–1380] was the first king of France who took actual measures to procure its continuance by his successors. In 1378, this library contained 910 volumes, placed in one of the towers of the Louvre. From this period it was neglected until 1425, when the Duke of Bedford obtained possession of it for a small sum of money, and, as is believed, conveyed it to England. The present collection is based on a library commenced by Louis XI. This collection was increased by means of a law, ordering that one copy of every printed book should be deposited therein. Louis XII. added the books that his father had collected at Blois; and Francis I., in the year 1544, sent the whole to a library founded by him at Fontainebleau, containing at that time 1,890 volumes. In 1595, this library was transferred to Paris, where, in 1684, it contained nearly 40,000 printed books, and 10,500 MSS., many of these having been added to it by Colbert and others. At present, this library contains about 825,000 printed books; 85,000 volumes of manuscripts; 300,000 charters or deeds, and 500,000 pamphlets and tracts. Besides these, it contains a superb collection of coins, medals, and curiosities, originally collected by Louis XIV., and more than 1,500,000 engravings and portraits. The MSS. are especially rare and valuable, including, at one time, Horace, Virgil, Cæsar, Terence, and others among the Classics; Dante, Boccaccio, and Michael Angelo; besides many others acquired from the Vatican Library, and afterwards returned to Rome. The Bibliothèque Impériale is open to readers every day, except holidays, from 10 o'clock A. M, until 4 P. M. Although there have been made various catalogues of its treasures, in MS. and type, there has been no complete catalogue ever made of the whole collection, and the difficulty of obtaining rare or little-known works, is of course very great. Such a catalogue has been undertaken by order of the present Emperor, and has proceeded as far as the fourth volume, in the class of French history.

The MAZARIN LIBRARY was commenced in 1643, by order of the Cardinal Mazarin, and the following year was thrown open to the public; it soon became popular, containing as it did some 40,000 volumes. During the Fronde, about 16,000 volumes were sold, when the King arrested the sale in 1652. In his will, Mazarin bequeathed this library to "men of letters," with the injunction that it should be opened to them twice in each week; this was not, however, done until 1688.

The library contains at present about 130,000 printed books, and 4,000 manuscripts, besides works of art, models of Pelasgic monuments, etc. The books include mostly works of History, Theology, and Medicine, of the 15th and 16th centuries. The library is open every day except holidays, and a vacation from the 1st of August to the 15th of September, from 10 A. M. until 3 P. M. It possesses no modern works, not having purchased anything with the exception of memoirs and dictionaries, since 1789.

The Library of St. Genevieve was founded in 1624 by the Cardinal de la Rochefoucault, an Abbé of St. Genevieve, in the buildings of the monastery. Additions were made to the collection from valuable private libraries, until the period of the Empire, when it received the name of "Library of the Pantheon." It contains at the present day nearly 150,000 printed books and 5,000 manuscripts. The reading-room is the largest in Paris, seating comfortably 420 persons. Among other rarities, the library contains a fine collection of the publications of Aldus and Elzivir; early printed books; Italian books of the 16th century; and one of the best collections of the works of Lope de Vega, known to exist. Also, newspapers, pamphlets, etc., from the 17th century until the Empire.

A unique collection of portraits of the 16th century, adds to the value of this remarkable library.

This library is extremely popular, and visitors are obliged to attend early to secure seats; the regulations are similar to those described above, with the exception that it is open in the evening from 6 until 10. Each department, of which there are six, is superintended by a special librarian, and the whole establishment is thoroughly systematic.

The Bibliothèque de l'Arsenal contains 230,000 volumes, of which 6,000 are manuscripts. It is devoted to early French literature, containing a remarkable collection of Poetry, Plays, etc. The regulations of this library are similar to those before mentioned.

The Bibliothèque de la Sorbonne comprises 100,000 volumes, including 1,000 rare manuscripts. It was founded coëval with the University of France.

The Bibliothèque de la Ville de Paris contains more than 80,000 volumes, including 12,000 presented by the various States of the American Union.

Bibliothèque du Museum d'Histoire Naturelle, 40,000 volumes, including rare books and manuscripts, and 5,000 engravings on vellum, referring to natural history.

Bibliothèque de l'Ecole de Medecine, 45,000 volumes.

Bibliothèque de l'Ecole de Droit, 10,000 volumes.

Bibliothèque du Conservatoire de Musique et de Déclamation, 25,000 volumes upon Music.

Bibliothèque du Conservatoire des Arts et Métiers. 20,000 volumes upon Technology and different branches of industrial arts.

Bibliothèque Nationale Polonaise, founded in 1839, and contains 30,000 volumes.

Bibliothèque de la Chambre de Commerce. Composed entirely of works relating to navigation, commerce, colonies, legislation, finances, etc.

These are all the strictly public libraries of Paris; that is, all which are opened to the public free of expense. The total number of volumes contained in them, is 1,685,000, and about 100,000 manuscripts.

Current Works for Libraries.

WITH NOTES CRITICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE.

JANUARY—JUNE, 1860.

THE following books have been selected from the reprints and new publications for this year, as adapted to the wants of public libraries. They comprise works upon every subject, and have been chosen without regard to any other qualification than those of worth and importance.

ALISON.—The History of Europe, from the Fall of Napoleon, in MDCCCXV., to the Accession of Louis Napoleon in MDCCCLII. Vol. 4. 8vo., pp. 716. [Harper & Brothers.] $1 50

Although the deductions of this author are frequently incorrect and improper, the correctness of his facts may relied upon, and the work will be found valuable as an encyclopedia of the history of Europe.

BUCKINGHAM (Duke of).—The Life and Times of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, from Original and Authentic Sources. By Mrs. Thomson. 3 vols., post 8vo., pp. 780. London. $10 00

To such libraries as pay attention to the collection of biographies of noted men, this work will be found valuable and interesting.

BURTON, R.—The Anatomy of Melancholy: What it Is, with all Kinds, Causes, Symptoms, Prognostics, and several Cures of it; in Three Partitions, with their several Sections, Members, and Subsections, Philosophically, Medically, Historically Opened and Cut up. By Democritus Junior. With a Satirical Preface, conducing to the following Discourse. A New Edition, Corrected, and enriched by Translations of the numerous Classical Extracts, by Democritus Minor. 12mo., 3 vols. Boston: Crosby, Nichols, Lee & Co. 1860. $4 00

An exceedingly beautiful and readable edition of a quaint and rare old author—one who has been, perhaps, more borrowed from than any other of the period.

CARTER.—History of the Great Reformation in England, Ireland, Scotland, Germany, France, and Italy. By Rev. Thomas Carter. 12mo., pp. 372. [Carlton & Porter.] $1 00

A compilation of very considerable interest, and one much needed.

CHAMBERS'S Encyclopedia: a Dictionary of Universal Knowledge for the People; illustrated with maps and numerous wood engravings. Vol. I. Royal 8vo., pp. 820. London. $2 50

As a popular Encyclopedia this will be found useful.

COGGESHALL.—Historical Sketch of Commerce and Navigation from the Birth of our Savior down to the Present Date (1860); with Remarks on the Beneficial Results to Christianity in Civilization. By George Coggeshall, author of the "History of American Privateers," &c. 8vo., pp. 526. [G. P. Putnam.] $2 00

An exceedingly valuable work, and one that will be found useful in any library.

COOLEDGE, A. J., and J. B. MANSFIELD.—A New and Complete History and Description of Maine. In 1 volume, royal 8vo., 400 pages. Boston: J. B. Mansfield. $3 50

The interest in local histories is greatly increasing, and works of this nature are frequently required in public libraries.

CURTIS.—History of the Origin, Formation, and Adoption of the Constitution of the United States; with Notices of the principal Framers. By George T. Curtis. New edition, 2 vols., 8vo., pp. 518 653. [Harper & Brothers.] $4 00

This work, which has become standard, will be found a necessary accompaniment of every library of American history.

DARWIN.—The Origin of Species by means of Natural Selection; or, the Preservation of Favored Races in the Struggle for Life. By Charles Darwin, M. A., Fellow of the Royal, Geological, Linnæan, &c., Societies; author of "Journal of Researches during H. M. S. Beagle's Voyage Round the World." 12mo. pp. 432. [D. Appleton & Co.] $1 25

This is probably the most remarkable work of the present year; advancing theories entirely adverse to popular belief, and even to previous scientific deductions, it has taken hold of the public mind with a tenacity not reached by any other work since Buckle.

DORAN (DR.)—The Book of the Princes of Wales, Heirs to the Crown of England. By Dr. Doran. Post 8vo. pp. 530. London. $3 50

The youthful history of the Kings of England is here collected into one volume, possessing as romantic interest as any work of the kind that could be compiled.

FICHTE, I. H.—Contributions to Mental Philosophy. Translated and edited by J. D. Morell, M. A., author of "Elements of Psychology," &c. Cap 8vo., cloth. London. $1 50

No one is better able to present the works of the German metaphysicians than Mr. Morell, who has devoted his life to the elucidation of the history and biography of the subject.

FORSTER (J.)—Arrest of the Five Members by Charles the First: a Chapter of English History Re-written. By John Forster. Post 8vo., pp. 460. $3 50

This event, probably the most important in its results of any in English history, is elaborately and minutely depicted in the vigorous language of the great English critic and essayist.

GOSSE, PHILIP HENRY.—Evenings at the Microscope; or, Researches among the Minuter Organs and Forms of Animal Life. 12mo., pp. 480. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $1 25

Combining amusement with instruction in this delightful science, this work will be found an admirable text-book. Mr. Gosse presents the subject in its most attractive light.

GRIFFITH (J. W.) and HENFREY (A.)—The Micrographic Dictionary; a Guide to the Examination and Investigation of the Structure and Nature of Microscopic Objects. By J. W. Griffith and Arthur Henfrey. 2d edit. 8vo. Illustrated by 45 Plates and 812 Woodcuts. pp. 800. London. $12 00

A complete encyclopedia of microscopic science, and the only perfect compend of the kind ever published.

GODWIN.—The History of France, from the Earliest Times to the French Revolution of 1789. Vol 1 (Ancient Gaul). By Parke Godwin. 8vo., pp. 495. [Harper & Brothers.] $2 00

Strange enough, there has heretofore existed no complete history, in English, of the French Empire. Mr. Godwin has thus far performed his task well, and the work will be found a necessary addition to every library.

HAMILTON.—History of the Republic of the United States of America, as traced in the Writings of Alexander Hamilton and his Cotemporaries. By John C. Hamilton. Vol. 5. 8vo., pp. 620. [D. Appleton & Co.] $2 50

The history of the United States at this period could not have been more accurately traced than in the life of its greatest statesman. Mr. Hamilton's materials for the work are unlimited, and the work is one of the greatest importance to every historical collection.

HAYDN (J.)—A Dictionary of Dates relating to all Ages and Nations, for Universal Reference; comprehending Remarkable Occurrences, Ancient and Modern; the Foundation, Laws, and Government of Countries; their Progress in Civilization, Industry, Literature, Arts, and Science; their Achievements in Arms; and their Civil, Military, and Religious Institutions, and particularly of the British Empire. By Joseph Haydn. 9th edit., revised and greatly enlarged by Benjamin Vincent. 8vo., pp. 740. London. $5 00

A valuable and useful chronological dictionary. The present edition is greatly enlarged and improved.

HERODOTUS.—The History of Herodotus: a New English Version. Edited, with copious Notes and Appendixes, illustrating the History and Geography of Herodotus, from the most recent sources of Information, and embodying the chief Results, Historical and Ethnographical, which have been obtained in the process of Cuneiform and Hieroglyphical Discovery, by George Rawlinson, assisted by Col. Sir Henry Rawlinson and Sir J. G. Wilkinson. 4 vols. Vol. 4, 8vo., pp. 570. London. $5 00

HERODOTUS.—The History of. A New English Version. Edited, with copious Notes and Appendixes, illustrating the History and Geography of Herodotus, from the most recent sources of Information; and embodying the chief Results, Historical and Ethnographical which have been obtained in the process of Cuneiform and Hieroglyphical Discovery, by George Rawlinson, M. A., late Fellow and Tutor of Exeter College, Oxford, assisted by Col. Sir Henry Rawlinson, K. C. B., and Sir J. G. Wilkinson, F. R. S. With Maps and Illustrations. 4 vols. Vols. 2 and 3. [D. Appleton & Co.] each $2 50

A superb edition of the works of the great traveler, illustrated with notes and plates, and based on personal researches of the editor, who has labored hard in the field of Oriental restoration.

HOUGH, FRANKLIN B.—A History of Lewis County, in the State of New York, from the beginning of its Settlement to the Present Time. By Franklin B. Hough, author of the Histories of St. Lawrence, Franklin, and Jefferson Counties, and Corresponding Member of the New York, Connecticut, Vermont, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Iowa Historical Societies. 8vo., pp. 319. [Munsell & Rowland.] $3 50

As aids to the future historian of the Empire State, these County Histories will be of the greatest importance.

HUMBOLDT, ALEX. VON, Letters of, to Varnhagen von Ense, from 1827 to 1858. With Extracts from Varnhagen's Diaries, and Letters of Varnhagen and others to Humboldt. Translated from the Second German Edition. By Frederic Kapp. 12mo. pp. 407. [Rudd & Carleton.] $1 25

These familiar and piquant letters, present the character of Humboldt in its most interesting aspect, while they exhibit the habits and customs of the great minds with whom he associated better than any biography.

JAMESON (MRS.)—Memoirs of Early Italian Painters, and of the Progress of Painting in Italy, from Cimabue to Bassano. By Mrs. Jameson. New edition, revised throughout by the Author, and with much additional matter. Post 8vo., pp. 340. London. $3 50

The labors of this lamented and eminent authoress in the field of art were conscientious and praiseworthy; the century has not produced another of equal merit; and future art-historians will derive the greater part of their material from her researches.

LEE.—The Treason of Charles Lee, Major-General, second in command in the American Army of the Revolution. By George H. Moore. 8vo., pp. 115. [Charles Scribner.] $1 50

A manuscript accidentally discovered has at length settled this vexed question, to the shame of the treacherous officer. Mr. Moore has presented the subject, with notes and fac similes, in the most careful manner.

LEWES (G. H.)—The Physiology of Common Life. By George Henry Lewes. 2 vols. Vol. 2, post 8vo., pp. 480. London. $1 75

Treating science in a popular manner, and selecting its examples from every-day resources, have become usual among modern authors. This will be found to equal in interest and information any of this class of works.

LOWNDES'S Bibliographer's Manual of English Literature, comprising an Account of Rare, Curious, and Useful Books published in England since the Invention of Printing; with Bibliographical and Critical Notices and Prices. New Edition, revised and enlarged by Henry G. Bohn. Part 5, post 8vo. $1 00

To such as are unable to complete an extended bibliographical collection, this work, with its notes and additions, will be found an able assistant within its speciality.

MARSH.—Lectures on the English Language. By George P. Marsh. 8vo., pp. 697. [Charles Scribner.] $2 50

These Lectures, delivered before the N. Y. Historical Society, in their present form will be found necessary to every English scholar, as well as every student of philology.

NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA (The): a Popular Dictionary of General Knowledge. Edited by George Ripley and Charles A. Dana. Volume IX. Hayne—Jersey City. 8vo., pp. 790. [D. Appleton & Co.] $3 00

This work is useful for the amount of information it contains, and for the extended variety of the subjects treated.

NICHOL (J. P.)—A Cyclopedia of the Physical Sciences: comprising Acoustics, Astronomy, Dynamics, Electricity, Heat, Hydro-Dynamics, Magnetism, Philosophy of Mathematics, Meteorology, Optics, Pneumatics, Statics, &c. By J. P. Nichol. 2d edit., revised and enlarged. 8vo., pp. 901. London. $6 00

As a compend of Physical Science, libraries will do well to procure this work; the reputation of the author is too well established to need comment.

PARTON.—Life of Andrew Jackson. By James Parton, author of "Life of Aaron Burr," &c. 3 vols., 8vo. Vol. 2, pp. 672. [Mason Brothers.] $2 50

Mr. Parton established his reputation in his Life of Burr, and is adding to it in the present work. As a careful and eloquent biographer, he is rapidly obtaining a high position in American literature.

RHEES (WM. J.)—Manual of Libraries, Societies, and Institutions, in the United States and British Provinces of North America. Containing an Historical and Statistical Account of Libraries, Colleges, and College Societies, Academies, Seminaries, and High Schools, Institutions for the Deaf, Dumb, Blind, and Insane; Agricultural, Historical, Scientific, Mercantile, and Young Men's Christian, and other Associations. By William J. Rhees, Chief Clerk, of the Smithsonian Institution. 1 vol., 8vo., pp. 700. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. $3 00

Presenting at one view the literary and educational establishments of the United States. A text-book for libraries.

RUSKIN (JOHN).—The Elements of Perspective, arranged for the use of Schools. 12mo., pp. 154. [John Wiley.] $0 63

Apart from the usefulness of the writings of this distinguished author, as criticisms upon art, ancient and modern, they possess extraordinary merit of language; Mr. Ruskin is probably the most fluent and scholarly writer of pure English of the day, and his works may be studied as models.

SEWARD (WM. H.), The Life of. With selections from his Works. Edited by George E. Baker. New edition, with Additions, brought down to date March 12, 1860. 12mo., pp. 434. [J. S. Redfield.] $1 00

The late prominence of Mr. Seward as a candidate for the Presidency, and his defeat, will awaken very considerable interest in his life and past career, more especially as that career is now probably drawing to a close.

SMITH (WM., LL. D.)—A Dictionary of the Bible, comprising its Antiquities, Biography, Geography, and Natural History. 2 vols, Vol. 1, A to Juttah. 8vo., pp. 1176. [Little, Brown & Co.] $5 00

Important to theological students.

STEVENS (REV. WM. B.)—A History of Georgia, from its First Discovery by Europeans, to the Adoption of the present Constitution in MDCCXCVIII. By Rev. Wm. Bacon Stevens, M. D., D. D., formerly Professor of Belles-Lettres, History, &c., in the University of Georgia, Athens. 2 vols. Vol. 2, pp. 524. [E. H. Butler & Co.] $2 00

THIERS (M. A.)—The History of the French Revolution. By M. A. Thiers. Translated, with Notes and Illustrations from the most authentic sources, by Frederick Shoberl. New edit., 5 vols. Vol. 2. post 8vo., pp. 480. London. $1 50

TIMBS (J.)—The Year Book of Facts in Science and Art; exhibiting the most important Discoveries and Improvements of the Past Year in Mechanics and the Useful Arts, Natural Philosophy, Electricity, Chemistry, Zoology and Botany, Geology and Mineralogy, Meteorology and Astronomy. By John Timbs. 12mo., pp. 299. London. $1 50

Mr. Custis presents many interesting private memorials of the Father of his Country.

WHATELY.—Introductory Lessons on Mind. By the author of "Lessons on Reasoning," "Lessons on Morals," &c. 12mo. pp. 240. [James Munroe & Co.] $0 75

WHITE (REV. JAMES).—The Eighteen Christian Centuries. By the Rev. James White, author of a "History of France." With a copious Index. From the second Edinburgh edition. 12mo., p. 538. [D. Appleton & Co.] $1 25

Perhaps the most interesting historical work of the season. Glancing cursorily and rapidly at every period and every event, it slights nothing; the deductions are philosophical, and the conclusions just and logical; the language clear, terse, and vigorous; it should be in every public library.

WORCESTER (JOSEPH E., LL. D.)—A Dictionary of the English Language. 4to., pp. 1854. [Hickling, Swan & Brewer.] $7 50

Dr. Worcester has prepared on the basis of his old work a Dictionary exceeding in completeness and philological accuracy any ever before published of the English language.

YOUNG (A. W.)—The American Statesman: a Political History, exhibiting the Origin, Nature, and Practical Operation of Constitutional Government in the United States; the Rise and Progress of Parties; and the Views of Distinguished Statesmen on Questions of Foreign and Domestic Policy, brought down to the present time; with an Appendix, containing the Explanatory Notes, Political Essays, Statistical Information, and other Useful Matter. By Andrew W. Young, author of "Science of Government." 8vo., pp. 1066. [Derby & Jackson.] $3 50

In a country so surrendered to politics as the United States, any political history is valuable and useful. Mr. Young has been long known in connection with the subject.

Allen, Ebenezer. Reprint of a Short Biography of Colonel Ebenezer Allen, known in the New Hampshire Grants, as Captain or Major, A.D. 1777, before and after. Also, short Biographies of Lieutenant Samuel Allen and Dr. Jacob Roebeck. In addition, some reminiscences of Lake Champlain, reprinted in part. Plattsburgh: J W. Tuttle, book and job printer. 1852. 8vo. pp. 32.

Allen, Ethan. A brief Narrative of the Proceedings of the Government of New York, relative to their obtaining the Jurisdiction of that large District of Land to the westward from Connecticut River, which, antecedent thereto, had been patented by his Majesty's Governor and Council of the Government of New Hampshire. And also, of the monopolizing Conduct of the Government of New York, in their subsequently patenting Part of the same Land, and oppressing the Grantees and Settlers under New Hampshire. Together with Arguments demonstrating that the Property of those Lands was conveyed from the Crown to the New-Hampshire Grantees, by Virtue of their respective Charters. With Remarks on a Pamphlet entitled, "A State of the Right of the Colony of New York," &c., and on the Narrative of the Proceedings subsequent to the Royal Adjudication, concerning the Lands to the Westward of Connecticut River, lately usurp'd by New Hampshire. Intended as an Appendix to the General Assembly's State of the Right of the Colony of New York (with Respect to it's Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire), published at their Session, 1773. By ETHAN ALLEN. Bennington, 23d September, 1774. Hartford: Printed by Eben Watson, near the Great Bridge. 8vo. pp. 211.

 Referred to in Ira Allen's Hist. Vt, 52; also in a letter of E. Allen in Slade's Vt. State Papers, at p. 93.

——— A narrative of Colonel Ethan Allen's Captivity, From the time of his being taken by the British, near Montreal, on the 25th day of September, 1775, to the time of his exchange on the sixth day of May, 1778, containing his Voyages and Travels, With the most remarkable occurrences respecting himself, and many other Continental prisoners of different ranks and characters, which fell under his observation in the course of the same; particularly the destruction of the prisoners at New York, by general sir William Howe, in the years 1776 and 1777, interspersed with some political observations. Written by himself, and now published for the information of the curious in all nations.

When God from chaos gave this world to be,
Man then he form'd, and form'd him to be free.
American Independence—A poem, by Freneau.

Philadelphia: Printed for and sold by William Mentz, in Cherry Alley. 1779. 12mo. pp. 64.

 The introduction to this work is signed, "Ethan Allen. Bennington, March 25th, 1779."

There have been several editions of this "Narrative," some of which, and possibly all, are noticed below.

1. The original edition, the title and imprint of which are given above. The copy of this edition which I have seen, is in the library of the New York Historical Society, and is not an unfair specimen of the book-making of the period to which it belongs. It is possible there may have been another edition in the same year, since the primal garb of the work is alluded to in the Walpole edition of 1807, as "the shabby dress of a large and ragged pamphlet."

2. In the appendix of the second volume of "Particulars of the Capture of the ship Olive Branch," written by Ira Allen. Although the second volume of the "Particulars," &c., was not published until 1805, yet the separate title-page to the "Narrative," bears the date of 1799. See Allen, Ira.

3. The Walpole edition. Following the poetical quotation on the title page, are these words:—

"To which are now added a considerable number of explanatory and occasional notes, together with an index of reference to the most remarkable occurrences in the narrative. Walpole, N. H. Published by Thomas & Thomas. From the press of Charter & Hale. 1807." 12mo. pp. 159.

4. An edition which bore this imprint: "Albany: Published by Pratt & Clark. Printed by Moses Pratt, jun., No. 169 Lion street. 1814." 12mo. pp. 144.

5. An edition called "The third edition," published at Burlington, Vt., in 1833, by Chauncey Goodrich, in the preface to which, the publisher, referring to the work, states, incorrectly, that "it is now thirty-one years since it has been published, and more than twenty years since it has been seen in any book store."

6. What is termed the "Fourth edition," bears the imprint, "Burlington: Chauncey Goodrich." 1846." 12mo. pp.

7. Styled in the title-page "Fifth edition, with notes," and is imprinted, "Burlington: C. Goodrich & S. B. Nichols. Wickware building. 1849." 8vo. pp. 50.

——— A Vindication of the opposition of the inhabitants of Vermont to the government of New York, and of their right to form an independent state, humbly submitted to the consideration of the impartial world. By Ethan Allen. Printed by Alden Spooner, 1779. Printer to the State of Vermont. 8vo. pp. 172.

 This work was published in obedience to a resolve of the Governor and Council of Vermont, passed August 23d, 1779.

——— An animadversory address to the inhabitants of the State of Vermont, with remarks on a proclamation, under the hand of his Excellency George Clinton, Esq., Governor of the State of New York. By Ethan Allen. Hartford: Printed by Watson & Goodwin, near the great bridge. M.DCC.LXXVIII. (Dated Bennington, August 9, 1778.) 8vo. pp. 24.

 In a letter to Gov. Chittenden, dated at Windsor, Oct. 10, 1778, Ethan Allen refers to this work, and to another written by himself in 1774, in these terms: "The allegations, thrown by New York, received a most severe shock on the perusal of my late pamphlet in answer to his Excellency Governor Clinton's proclamation, dated in February last, containing certain overtures to the inhabitants of this state; as well as from my large treatise on the nature and merit of the New York claim, and their treatment to the inhabitants of this now state of Vermont."—Slade's Vt. State Papers, 98.

——— The present state of the controversy between the states of New York and New Hampshire on the one part, and the state of Vermont on the other. Hartford: Printed by Hudson & Goodwin. M.DCC.LXXXII. 8vo. pp. 16.

 This pamphlet is dated, "State of Vermont, January 17, 1782," and although it appeared anonymously, is accredited with certainty to Ethan Allen.

——— and Fay, Jonas. A concise refutation of the claims of New Hampshire and Massachusetts Bay, to the Territory of Vermont; with occasional Remarks on the long disputed Claim of New York to the same. Written by Ethan Allen and Jonas Fay, Esq'rs. And published by order of the Governor and Council of Vermont. Bennington, the first Day of January, 1780. Joseph Fay, Sec'ry. Hartford: Printed by Hudson & Goodwin. 8vo. pp. 29.

Allen, Ira. A vindication of the Conduct of the General Assembly of the State of Vermont, held at Windsor, in October, 1778, against Allegations and Remarks of the protesting Members; with Observations on their Proceedings, at a Convention held at Cornish, on the 9th day of December, 1778. By Ira Allen. Arlington, 9th Jan., 1779. Dresden, printed by Alden Spooner. 1779. 12mo. pp. 48.

 At the session of the General Assembly of Vermont held at Bennington in February, 1779, Mr. Bradley, Dr. Jones, and Mr. Rowley were, on Tuesday, the 16th of that month, appointed to distribute this pamphlet. Reference is made to this pamphlet in Ira Allen's Hist. Vt., p. 117, and in Williams's Hist. Vt., 2d ed., vol. ii, p. 180.

——— Miscellaneous Remarks on the Proceedings of the State of New York against the State of Vermont, &c. By Ira Allen. Hartford: Printed by Hannah Watson, near the Great Bridge. MDCCLXXVII. 8vo. pp. 15 to 20.

 The date of this pamphlet is October 30th, 1777. The topics treated therein are the resolutions of the New York Convention, passed May 10th, 1777, and the provisions of the New York constitution. For the resolutions, see the Documentary History of New York, vol. iv, pp. 936-940; Hall's History of Eastern Vermont, pp. 292-294; Thompson's History of Vermont, part ii, p. 107. I have never seen a printed copy of this pamphlet.

——— Miscellaneous Remarks, vindicating the rights of the people to form a State, and in answer to a pamphlet published by the Convention of New York, dated October 2d, 1776. By Ira Allen. Hartford: Printed by Hannah Watson, near the Great Bridge. 1777. 8vo. pp. 40 to 50.

 This title is not literal, but conjectural, embracing an account of the topics discussed in the pamphlet. The preface is in these words: "The following impartial work was undertaken by and at the request of the General Convention of the district of the New Hampshire Grants, and many matters of fact are here inserted, as a short state of the disingenuous cunning of the former Government (now State) of New York, towards the inhabitants of said district. Which are humbly dedicated to the candid reader, by the author, for the good of mankind." Then follows this heading: "Miscellaneous remarks, &c.," and immediately subsequent are these words: "Our author informs us in page 7th and 8th, viz., 'It is unquestionable that the jurisdiction of this state over the territory which now comprehends the County of Cumberland, is coeval with its first formation as a colony under the crown of Great Britain.'" The words comprised within the single quotation marks, are from a report submitted to the Convention of New York on the 4th of October, 1776, by a committee consisting of William Duer, James Duane, Zephaniah Platt, John Sessions, Simon Stevens, and John Jay, copious extracts from which may be found in Hall's History of Eastern Vermont, at pages 271-275. In Thompson's History of Vermont, part ii, at page 107, may be found a few items from the account-book of Col. Ira Allen. Among them is this: "1777. April 20th. To writing. a pamphlet, Vindicating the Rights of the people to form a State, and in answer to a pamphlet published by the Convention of New York, dated October 2d, 1776, and sent to the County of Cumberland, £6 0 0. To 3 days going to Hartford to get s'd pamphlet printed, £1 10 0." It is on these data that the title is founded. Consult Ira Allen's History of Vermont, p. 92. I have never seen a printed copy of the pamphlet.

——— Particulars of the capture of the ship Olive Branch, laden with a cargo of arms, &c., the property of Major General Ira Allen, destined for supplying the militia of Vermont, and captured by His Britannic Majesty's Ship of War, Audacious: together with the Proceedings and Evidence before the High Court of Admiralty of Great Britain. Vol. I. By Ira Allen, Esq., of Vermont, in the United States of America, the claimant in this cause. London: printed by J. W. Myers, No 2 Paternoster Row, 1798. 8vo. pp. vi, 405.

 In July, 1796, Ira Allen, in conformity to the written request of Thomas Chittenden, Governor and Captain General of Vermont, and for the equipment of the militia of that State, purchased at Paris, of the French Government, 20,000 muskets with their bayonets, 24 brass four-pound field pieces, 6 gun carriages, and 6 cannon-wagons. "These arms being thus purchased, the ship Olive Branch, a neutral bottom, was chartered in London to convey them to New York. She received the cargo at Ostend, and on the 11th of November, 1796, sailed from that port for New York, and on the 19th of the same month, was taken by his Majesty's ship of war, the Audacious, Davidge Gould, Esq., Commander, and brought to Portsmouth, and soon after libeled by the captors in the High Court of Admiralty at London." Allen subsequently laid claim to the cargo in legal form, and the proceedings which ensued, form the staple of this and the following volume.—I. Allen's Hist. Vt., pp. iii, iv.

——— Particulars of the capture of the ship Olive Branch, laden with a cargo of cannon and arms, the property of Major General Ira Allen, destined for supplying the Militia of Vermont, and captured by his Britannic Majesty's ship of war Audacious; together with the proceedings and evidence before the high Court of Admiralty and Appeal, in Great Britain, and an account of his imprisonment in France, and persecutions by a conspiracy of the two Hemispheres: with an appendix, proposing a ship canal from Lake Champlain to the river St. Lawrence; the evacuation of Ticonderoga, and events of the war in 1777 .. truce in 1780, to the end of the war ..... and a narrative of Colonel Ethan Allen's captivity, from 1775 to 1778. Bradley, Stephen R. Vermont's Appeal to the candid and impartial world. Containing, a fair stating of the claims of Massachusetts Bay, New Hampshire, and New York. The right the State of Vermont has to independence. With an Address to the Honorable American Congress, and the Inhabitants of the Thirteen United States. By Stephen R. Bradley, A. M. The Lord hath called me from the womb, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name. And said unto me, thou art my servant, O V.....! in whom I will be glorified. And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood as with sweet wine, and all flesh shall know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob. Isaiah xlix. Hartford: Printed by Hudson & Goodwin. 8vo. pp. 51.

 The following account of this pamphlet may not prove uninteresting.

"On the 24th of September, 1779, Congress, by an act, resolved to adjudicate upon the claims of Massachusetts Bay, New Hampshire, and New York, on the 1st of February, 1780. To Mr. Bradley was assigned the task of presenting, for the consideration of Congress, the views held by Vermont on this important question.

"With but little knowledge, at the time, of the extent of the subject, the young lawyer commenced his investigations, and in less than two months, had completed a faithful and well-written account of the state of the controversy. This was read before the Council of Vermont, at Arlington, on the 10th of December, 1779, and, having been approved of by them, was ordered to be published. It appeared early in the year 1780, under the title of 'Vermont's Appeal to the Candid and Impartial World,' and aided essentially in supporting the claims of Vermont to a separate and independent government. It was written with vigor, and did not want those flowers of rhetoric which adorn, and, not unfrequently, strengthen argument. Few copies of this production are now extant; but among those pamphlets written at this period upon the controversy, 'Vermont's Appeal' stands pre-eminent, not only on account of the force with which it is composed, but also by reason of the manner in which the topics of which it treats are presented. It was laid before Congress early in February, 1780, by its author, who had been previously selected to advocate the claims of Vermont at Philade'phia. Copies of the publication were also presented to many of the members, but no opportunity was granted to Mr. Bradley to appear in person before a committee of Congress, in consequence of the postponement of the consideration of the controversy question."—Hall's Hist. East. Vt, p. 596.

Among the items on the account book of Col. Ira Allen, the first treasurer of Vermont, is to be found this charge: "1778, Dec. 25. To 18 days assisting to revise Vt. Appeal, wrote by S. R. Bradley, Esq, &c., £9 16s. 0d."—Thompson's Hist. Vt., Part II., p. 107.

This pamphlet was reprinted in the Brattleboro' (Semi-weekly) Eagle, commencing in No. 57, of the date of February 24, 1851, and ending in No. 62, of the date of March 13, 1851.

New Hampshire Grants. (1). A State of the Right of the Colony of New York, with respect to it's Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire. And also a State of the Rights of the Colony of New York, so far as concerns the Grants formerly made by the French Government of Canada, of Lands on Lake Champlain, and at and to the southward of Crown Point. Agreed to and published by the General Assembly of the Colony of New York, at their Sessions in M,DCC,LXXIII. New York: Printed by H. Gaine, Printer, Bookseller, and Stationer, at the Bible and Crown, in Hanover Square. 1773. Folio, pp. 28.

 The history of this pamphlet is as follows:

"In answer to a petition from Col. John Mansell and others, 'interested in lands to the westward of Connecticut River,' praying that the General Assembly would adopt measures to prevent 'the success of the solicitations and interposition of the government of New Hampshire, in prejudice of the ancient limits' of New York, the House on the 17th of February, 1773, having resolved itself into a 'grand committee on grievances,' declared that the eastern limits of the colony, both by the royal grants to the Duke of York and by the orders in privy council of July 20th, 1764, were the western banks of Connecticut River. For the purpose of presenting the subject in a tangible form, they appointed Col. Philip Schuyler, John De Noyellis, and Crean Brush a committee to draft a representation of the rights of the colony of New York to the lands in question. This representation, when agreed to by the House, was to be transmitted to the agent of the colony, to enable him to maintain the claim at the court of Great Britain. On Saturday, the 6th of March following, Mr. Brush gave in the report of the committee, which was adopted on Monday the 8th, and entered on the journals. It was entitled 'A state of the right of the colony of New York, with respect to its eastern boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late encroachments under the government of New Hampshire.'

"This document was subsequently printed in the form of a folio pamphlet, and, with others of a similar character, was placed in the hands of all the leading men engaged in the controversy. It was prepared mainly by the Hon. James Duane, and presented an able argument in support of the rights of New York." —Hall's Hist. Eastern Vt., 666. Referred to also in Doc. Hist. N. Y., iv., 1025, 1065.

——— (2). A Narrative of the Proceedings subsequent to the Royal Adjudication concerning the Lands to the Westward of Connecticut River, lately usurped by New Hampshire, with Remarks on the Claim, Behavior, and Misrepresentations of the Intruders under that Government. Intended as an Appendix to the General Assembly's State of the Right of the Colony of New York (with respect to its Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire). Published at their Session 1773. New York: Printed by John Holt, near the Coffee House. M,DCC,LXXIII. Folio, pp. 28.

 This pamphlet was intended to accompany the preceding publication, marked (1), and is usually to be found bound with it. It was reprinted in the Brattleboro' (Vt.) Semi-weekly Eagle, in the issues of that paper comprehended between No. 44, published January 9, 1851, and No. 56, published February 20, 1851, inclusive.

——— (3). Appendix, containing Grants, Acts of Government, and other Proofs concerning the Encroachments of the Colony of New Hampshire, and the Conduct, Claims, and Misrepresentations of its Grantees, referred to in the preceding "State of the Right of the Colony of New York, with respect to its Eastern Boundary on Connecticut River, so far as concerns the late Encroachments under the Government of New Hampshire," and also in the "Narrative of the Proceedings subsequent to the Royal Adjudication concerning the Lands to the Westward of Connecticut River, lately occupied by New Hampshire." Folio, pp. 66.

 This collection of documentary evidence was prepared to accompany the pamphlets immediately preceding, and numbered (1) and (2). It was, doubtless, printed in 1773.

Containing Remarks on Sundry Paragraphs of Letters from the President of the Council of New Hampshire to his Excellency Governor Chittenden, and the New Hampshire Delegates at Congress. Dresden: Printed by Alden Spooner. 1779. 8vo., pp. 56.

 This pamphlet was drawn up "Pursuant to a resolve of the General Assembly of the State of Vermont, passed October 20th, 1778, 'that a declaration be drawn up, setting forth the political state of the New Hampshire Grants (so called) on both sides of Connecticut River, &c.'" and was "repeatedly read and unanimously approved" at Cornish, N. H., in Convention, December 9, 1778. It was signed, "Jacob Bayley, Elisha Payne, Beza. Woodward, Committee. New Hampshire Grants, Dec. 1, 1778." It is referred to in Belknap's History of New Hampshire, ii., 441; Doc. Hist. N. Y., iv., 1026.

Phelps, Charles. Vermonters Unmasked; or, some of their evil conduct made manifest, from facts too glaring to be denied, and many of them too criminal to be justified, as follows, viz. 8vo. pp. 12.

 This pamphlet is signed, "Your sincere Friend, A Citizen of the United States. 10th June, 1782." Its author was Charles Phelps, an inhabitant of Marlborough, in Vermont. In the History of Eastern Vermont, Mr. Hall refers to this pamphlet; but he had not seen a copy of it when he wrote his work, and it will be seen he is in error in placing the date of the pamphlet as late as October, 1782. With this exception, his remarks are correct. "He," says Mr. Hall, referring to Charles Phelps, "prepared and presented for the 'consideration of Congress and the impartial world,' a 'State paper,' entitled 'Vermonters Unmasked,' in which he called the attention of all the States to the danger to which they were exposed, if the 'audacious precedent' of dismembering States should be established, in consequence of the act of usurpation of which Vermont had been guilty, in depriving both New York and New Hampshire of a portion of their lawful and acknowledged territory. Many other points were largely discussed in this production, and the whole argument was supported by copious extracts from Grotius, Puffendorf, Vattel, and other civilians."

On the 11th of September, 1782, Phelps was presented by the grand jury of Windham County, for setting on foot an insurrection in Vermont, and for attempting to "subvert the freedom and independence of the government" of that State. In addition to these charges, it was stated, reference being had to this pamphlet, "that Phelps had brought into the State of Vermont, 'a seditious libel, tending to stir up a public rebellion'; that he had written, printed, and published abroad, 'a seditious libel, with a manifest intent, wittingly and designedly, to raise an insurrection and public rebellion' against the State; and that there was the highest reason to believe that there were in his possession 'a number of books, writings, and manuscripts,' whose tendency was to weaken and destroy the government and constitution as established. A warrant for his arrest, and for the seizure of his books, was accordingly issued. The search for Phelps was unsuccessful, but his books and manuscripts were seized, and having been brought into court were retained as confiscated to the State. Such of them as were obnoxious were probably destroyed or concealed, and the remainder were sold under the hammer." Hall's Hist. East. Vt., pp. 449, 685, et seq.

"A history of the Missisco Valley, by Samuel Sumner, is now in press, under the auspices of the Orleans County Historical Society. Rev. Bernice D. Ames has nearly ready for publication a history of Charlotte. A history of Bradford, by the Rev. Silas McKean, is in active preparation.  Properly speaking, there has been but one edition of this work—that above designated. On the title page of some of the copies, however, the words "Published for the author by," are omitted. In 1853, Mr. Thompson published an Appendix in a separate volume, which is now generally bound with the work to which it belongs, in a single volume. The title of the Appendix is in these words: "Appendix to the History of Vermont, Natural, Civil, and Statistical. 1853. By Zadock Thompson. [State seal and motto.] Burlington: Published by the Author. Stacy and Jameson, Printers. 1853." 8vo. pp. 64. Each of the three parts is often bound separately, being complete in itself. The Appendix, which, in the main, treats of the natural history of the State, is sometimes bound with part first, thus forming a full and very correct work on the natural history of Vermont, Whittier, John G. The Song of the Vermonters, 1779.

 This ballad is properly noted here, on account of the historical illusions with which it abounds, and the spirited reflection which it exhibits of the feelings of the Vermonters at the period to which it alludes. In a communication to the Historical Magazine, Mr. John G. Whittier acknowledges the authorship of it, in these words: "The citation of this song as a genuine specimen of early ballad-making, has not escaped my notice heretofore, but I have not taken the trouble to claim the questionable honor of its authorship. The verses are mine, and were first published by my friend, J. T. Buckingham, Esq., in the N. E. Magazine." Hist. Mag., v. ii. p. 152.

Ramusio, M. Gio. Batt. Navigationi et Viaggi. 3 vols., folio, bds. Venetia, 1585—1555-56. $35 00

 A very fine copy of Ramusio, a man who to the dexterity of a diplomatist added the hardihood of an adventurer and the taste of a scholar. He was equally skilled in the Spanish and French languages. He served the Republic of Venice 43 years, and retired to Padua, in the privacy of old age, to profit himself of his past experience. His collection (as Niceron says, very properly), enough to immortalize his name, formed the amusement of his old age. He died in 1557, in his 72d year.

Castillo, Bernal Diaz del. Historia verdadero de la Conquista de la Nueva España. Folio, vellum. Madrid, 1632. A very rare work, which was republished in 2 vols. 8vo., 1844. $30 00

 The author of this original and charming production, to which he justly gives the title of "The true history of the Conquest of New Spain," was himself one of the Conquistadores—one who not only witnessed the transactions which he relates, but who also performed a glorious part in them—a soldier who for impartiality and veracity has never had his equal. His account is acknowledged to be the only one on which we can place any reliance, and it has been the magazine from which the most eloquent of the Spanish writers on the same subject, as well as those of other countries, have borrowed their best materials. Some historians have even transcribed whole pages, but have not had sufficient honesty to acknowledge it. (J. Ingraham Lockhart, his translator.) Bernal Diaz's account bears all the marks of authenticity, and is accompanied with much pleasing naïveté, with such interesting details, with such amusing vanity, and yet so pardonable in an old soldier, who had been, as he boasts, in a hundred and nineteen battles, as renders his book one of the most singular that is to be found in any language.

Amsterdam, 1655. $100 00

 First and extremely scarce edition of this work. Meusel, Ternaux, and Rich always considered the second edition as the first. Very curious details on this book and on its author may be found in O'Callaghan's History of New York, and it is only since it has become known in America that the history of New Netherlands is understood. Even in 1832, Mr. Rich spoke of the existence of a work on the New Netherlands, before the year 1670, as very doubtful; and it is owing in a great measure to the researches made in Holland by Mr. Brodhead, Messrs. Asher, father and son, and myself, that there are now no less than fifteen publications of an earlier date known." [Muller, of Amsterdam.]

Mr. Muller has this work on his catalogue priced for the first edition (the same as this) $125, and for the second edition of 1656, $100.

Esquemeling, (J.) De Amerikaensche Zee Roovers. 4to., maps and plates. Amsterdam: by Jan ten Hoorn, 1678. Maps and plates. $30 00

 "This is the rare original edition of a book, the importance of which is, I believe, plain to every one who knows only one-tenth of the novels, imaginary voyages, books for youths, and for other people, comedies, and tragedies which have been taken from it by almost every European nation; so that to collect all that literature might be the task for a man's life. There is certainly no other book of that time which experienced a popularity similar to that of the 'Buccaniers of America,' which was, in the ten years following its publication, translated into most of the European languages; and there is a fact most curious in the literary history of all times, that the original was certainly unknown to all translators but one. They were all inclined to take the Spanish edition for the original; nay, even the learned editors of Mr. Grenville's catalogue seem doubtful whether the Dutch edition existed in print, or in MS. only. I leave it to amateurs more learned than myself to decide whether this is owing to the fact of so few people studying the Dutch language, or to the scarcity of the book, and shall only add that it is not mentioned by Rich or by Ternaux, which both contain the Spanish, English and French translations, while Ternaux notices a large number of Dutch books of minor importance. As to myself, I never saw more than two copies before, which were sold to American amateurs." [Muller, of Amsterdam.]

Have for sale a very complete and extensive stock of English and American Books in the various departments of literature, including standard editions of the best autuors in HISTORY, BIOGRAPHY, BELLES LETTRES, &c., finely bound in morocco, calf, etc., for DRAWING-ROOM LIBRARIES. Likewise, ornamental and richly-embellished books of plates for the center-table.

Particular attention given to orders from PUBLIC AND PRIVATE LIBRARIES. Through their London agencies, all English books of interest received at an early day after publication, and they carefully attend to the importation of BOOKS and PERIODICALS for which they may receive orders, a small commission only being charged for the business. The same attention given to an order for a single copy as for a quantity.

CATALOGUES OF BOOKS, new and old, published in London, and Cheap Lists from the principal dealers in second-hand books, received by every steamer.

ENGLISH and AMERICAN PERIODICALS supplied and served carefully and faithfully to subscribers throughout the city, or sent by mail to the country. Orders from any part of the world, with a remittance, or reference for payment in New York, will be promptly attended to.

C. S. F. & Co. will forward an extensive Catalogue of English and American Books, on receipt of two three-cent postage stamps.

Office of Pudney & Russell,

GENERAL PRINTERS,

79 JOHN STREET, New York.

The Undersigned take pleasure in announcing to their friends and the Public, that they have greatly enlarged their building, and made extensive improvements and additions to their establishment, by the introduction of new TYPE, and the most approved POWER PRESSES. Our capacities for serving our patrons, in all lines of Printing, being thus greatly increased, we respectfully invite their attention to the following resumé of the several branches of our business:—

Sermons, Addresses, Proceedings of Ecclesiastical Bodies, &c.

Having had a long and practical experience of work of this character, we feel no hesitation in expressing the belief that we can satisfy the taste of the most critical.

Members of the Bar, and others requiring legal printing, are confidently referred to the numerous REPORTS OF CASES, OPINIONS, ARGUMENTS, DECISIONS, &c., executed by us for the various COURTS and leading LAWYERS of this City. Appreciating the absolute importance of the minutest particularity in this species of work, we pledge ourselves to the strictest accuracy.

Colleges, Academies, Boarding Schools, and Public Institutions

generally, which require CATALOGUES, can have them printed in any style of typography.

Manufacturing and other Companies wishing PRICES CURRENT, ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES, LABELS, &c., are particularly referred to our opportunities for doing this work in the most tasteful manner.

The Attention of Business Men, in every part of the Country, is asked to our various styles of CIRCULARS, BILL-HEADS, LABELS, CATALOGUES, CHECKS, DRAFTS, BILLS OF LADING, SHOW-BILLS, &c. In an especial manner, however, we invite their notice to our facilities for preparing Pamphlets and Circulars Descriptive of Business.

Having, in our varied establishment, persons trained to the occupation of writing for the Press, we propose to make this feature a specialty, and engage to mold into agreeable and attractive form, with a strict conformity to the canons of good taste, any facts, however roughly expressed, that may be placed in our hands for that purpose.

Authors

having works to publish, are invited to inspect our ample means for printing the largest editions in the most elegant styles. It is needless to say, that having a carefully organized corps of Canvassing Agents in nearly every county in the Union, we have unsurpassed machinery at our command, for the circulation and sale of our publications.

Orders and Directions for work in either of the above branches, may be sent by mail, and will meet with prompt attention. Estimates cheerfully furnished.

We cordially ask our friends in the city, as well as visitors from the country, to call upon us, and test our ability to serve them.

PUDNEY & RUSSELL.

COOPER'S NOVELS.

Darley's Illustrated Edition.

THIS ENTIRELY NEW AND ELEGANT EDITION OF THE NOVELS of J. FENNIMORE COOPER is issued regularly, a volume on the first of each month, SIXTEEN VOLUMES being now (May, 1860) ready for subscribers. The entire series will be completed in Thirty-two Volumes.

This edition of Cooper's Novels is illustrated from drawings by F. O. C. DARLEY, each volume containing TWO VIGNETTES ON STEEL and TWELVE SKETCHES ON WOOD, engraved in the very best style, especially for this edition. The remarkable spirit and power evinced in all the designs from the pencil of Mr. Darley, have signally and eminently characterized those illustrating the scenes and characters of Cooper's novels. The artist's long familiarity with the pages of our great novelist, and a hearty love and appreciation of his genius, have resulted in the production of a series of drawings, which, for dramatic, picturesque, and vivid interest, have perhaps no superiors in modern art. These drawings have been engraved with a faithfulness and care worthy their reputation, by the acknowledged first artists in the country, exclusively in Line and Etching, and with a scrupulous regard to the requirements of first-class art. In their nationality, and their great superiority over ordinary book illustrations, they especially commend themselves to all connoisseurs of the Fine Arts.

Printed on superior, calendered, and toned paper, elegantly and uniformly bound in embossed cloth, with beveled edges. Published by subscription at $1.50 per volume.

Volumes now Ready:

THE PIONEERS, RED ROVER, LAST OF THE MOHICANS,
THE SPY, WYANDOTTE, THE BRAVO,
THE PILOT, WEPT OF WISH-TON-WISH, THE HEADSMAN,
THE PRAIRIE, LIONEL LINCOLN, THE SEA LINES,
THE WATER-WITCH, HOMEWARD BOUND, MONIKINS, SATANSTOE.

N. B.—The price in Great Britain of the five Periodicals above named, is $31 per annum.

OUR REPRINTS VERSUS ECLECTICS, ETC.

As we have for many years been paying more than $3,000 annually to the British Publishers for the matter furnished in these Periodicals, thus VIRTUALLY BECOMING CO-PARTNERS WITH THEM IN THE PROFITS OF THE REPRINTS, we trust the public will consider this in bestowing their patronage, and give us the preference over ECLECTIC and other PATCHWORK publications, whether monthly or weekly, which now extract so liberally from our works and PAY NOTHING either to the FOREIGN PUBLISHERS OR TO US for the same. As to CHEAPNESS, nobody can complain of paying $10 a year for the four leading British Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine, and by taking these works ENTIRE, subscribers are not obliged to be guided by others in the choice of the articles they may desire to read. Moreover, taking into consideration the style in which our Reprints are published, and their acknowledged fidelity to the original editions, and also the advantage of an early issue by means of the advance Sheets—our series will be found as cheap as any of the competing publications to which we have alluded.

☞ Remittances should always be addressed, post-paid, to the publishers,

PATENT

Extending & Reclining Chairs.

(GENTLEMAN'S CHAIR.)

The Gentleman's Reading Chair.

This Chair is intended for comfort and convenience, and is greatly approved by the medical faculty, as is shown by numerous orders from them. The space it occupies is precisely the same as a common easy chair, which it resembles when not extended. It is quite low, the principle of its extension admitting that; and when extended, will accommodate a tall or short person, the party who occupies, regulating it. It extends by a slight push of the hand; it then gradually falls back to any angle that may be desired, even to a horizontal position, at the same time the adaptation to the figure is complete and luxurious; the arm of the chair maintains the same height, being undisturbed by the movement; a pivoting desk can be attached to the arm, as in the cut, for the support of books, or for the convenience of writing, and can be detached, or turned on the pivot to one side, so as to admit of greater freedom. The prices of the Gentleman's Chair range from $25 to $100; the price of the Lady's Chair is less, being from $23 upwards.

Fig. 1.

Fig. 1, Patented Five and Three Step Library Chairs. $30 and upwards.

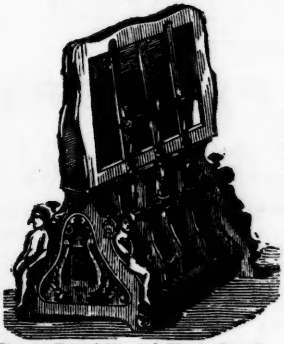
A comfortable study Chair, easily converted, by a single movement of the hand, into Library Steps, as in fig. 2.

It is proper to observe that the construction of these Chairs and Steps makes them strong, durable, and safe; at the same time they are elegant and of rich material.

Fig. 2.

Fig. 2, Library Steps.

We obtain these steps by a single movement, which reverses the back of the chair, seen in fig. 1. It is then of a sufficient height to enable you to obtain books on the highest library shelf or to closely examine pictures on the walls.



Patent Port-folio and Music Stand, self-locking at any angle required.

Patent Port-folio. $24 and upwards.

This Port-folio and Music Stand is superior in form, construction, and finish, to all others. The support to the leaf is always perpendicular, which imparts strength, and the leaf lays down to any angle required, without the possibility of slipping. One principle or movement is used in all these articles by Mons. Eliaers, and it is the principle that he has patented throughout.

PUBLISHERS OF THE

NATIONAL SERIES

STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS.

THESE WORKS ARE PREPARED BY THE BEST EDUCATORS IN THE COUNTRY, AND DESIGNED WITH special reference to the thorough Education of the Youth of our land. Great care has been taken to exclude sectional or sectarian matter, so that the series is regarded as truly the NATIONAL SCHOOL SERIES. The favor which these books have received from all parts of the United States, warrants the Publishers in calling upon their friends to examine each of the works comprising this series (provided they have not already done so), with a view of making them their STANDARD TEXT-BOOKS. The following is a part of the series:

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF ARITHMETICS AND MATHEMATICS. By Prof. CHARLES DAVIES, LL.D., formerly of the United States Military Academy, and now of Columbia College. (The standard of New York, Baltimore, New Orleans, Buffalo, Rochester, Milwaukee, and other large cities.)

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF GEOGRAPHIES. By JAMES MONTEITH and FRANCIS MCNALLY. (The standard of New Orleans, New York, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Newark, Brooklyn, and other cities.)

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF SCHOOL HISTORIES. By EMMA WILLARD and JAMES MONTEITH. (Daniel Webster said of Mrs. Willard's History of the United States: "I keep it near me as a valuable book of reference, accurate in facts and dates." It was also highly recommended by Henry Clay, and many other of our most illustrious Statesmen and Educators.)

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF SCHOOL READERS AND SPELLERS. By RICHARD G. PARKER and JAS. M. WATSON. Recommended wherever they are known, as the most beautiful and the most practical Readers and Spellers ever published.

THE NATIONAL SERIES OF ENGLISH GRAMMAR. Illustrated with Diagrams. By S. W. CLARK. Clark's method of teaching this hitherto dry subject makes it one of the most interesting studies in the language.

JOHNSON'S PHILOSOPHICAL CHARTS.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR APPARATUS.

Illustrating, with Diagrams and Colored Figures, the Principles of Natural Philosophy.

They never get out of order, are always ready for use, and cost but little.

The Charts, which are TEN IN NUMBER—each being 34 by 52 inches—are well bound, and strongly mounted on cloth and rollers. They are printed with white lines on black ground, and most of the drawings are colored, making them distinctly visible from any part of the largest school-room, preventing them from becoming soiled, besides giving them a neat, lively, and ornamental appearance.

[From BENJ. SILLIMAN, LL. D., Prof. Emeritus in Yale College.]

"Dr. Johnson's Philosophical Charts are well worthy of the attention of all teachers and learners of the different branches of Natural Philosophy to which they relate.

"The diagrams drawn in colored or contracted lines, upon a black ground, are perfectly distinct and intelligible, and the large size and handsome mounting of the charts give them a striking and attractive appearance.

"To teachers without apparatus they must be an invaluable acquisition, and a very useful one to those who have the instruments. BENJ. SILLIMAN."

Testimonials from many other scientific and literary gentlemen, as well as from hundreds of practical teachers in nearly all parts of the country, have been received.

Price of the Ten Charts, mounted on cloth, with rollers, with Key, $15; Mounted on paper, with Key, $12; Unmounted, with Key, sent post-paid, per mail, $6.

PROSPECTUS.

LIBRARIANS, BOOKSELLERS, SUPERINTENDENTS OF COLLEGIATE AND EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS, AND THE LITERARY PUBLIC IN GENERAL, ARE RESPECTFULLY INFORMED THAT THE UNDERSIGNED WILL ISSUE ON THE 1ST OF JUNE NEXT, A

LITERARY AND CRITICAL JOURNAL,

256 PAGES, ROYAL OCTAVO, ENTITLED

THE NATIONAL QUARTERLY REVIEW,

EDITED BY EDWARD I. SEARS, A. B.

The new Periodical will not be the organ of any clique, or party. It will know no such distinctions as North and South, except as indicating the integral parts of our common country; in short, it will be American in the broadest and most legitimate acceptation of the term.

Although devoted mainly to Literature, Art, Education and general Culture, it will contain occasional articles on the prominent political questions of the day.

While giving due prominence to American Literature, it is our intention that no foreign work of decided merit, whether French, German, Italian, Spanish, &c., shall be overlooked. The best will be examined in the original, and such new facts or interesting theories, as they may be found to contain, will be brought under review, and discussed in a liberal, cosmopolitan spirit.

Reviews of remarkable works on Christianity, by writers of different religious denominations, will be admissible.

Educational publications will receive careful attention, especially Greek and Latin Text Books. From twelve to eighteen pages will be devoted to brief critical notices of new books, translations, &c. A list containing the full titles of all publications received during the quarter, will be given at the end of each number. In a word, nothing will be omitted, which should be expected in a critical journal of the first class; no pains nor expense will be spared to render it in fact, as well as in name, The National Quarterly of the United States.

Terms.—The Review will be furnished only to annual subscribers, at the rate of Three Dollars for a single subscription, or two copies for Five Dollars.

Nevertheless, in order that the community shall be enabled to judge adequately of the merits of this new publication, the publishers will furnish a Specimen Copy of the First Number to those desiring to inspect its plan and arrangement, upon the transmission of Seventy-Five Cents to them, at any time prior to the day of the proposed publication.

The early attention of literary men, and of librarians, is therefore deemed to be absolutely indispensable.

Business communications to be addressed to the publishers. Communications relative to the literary department, to be addressed to Mr. E. I. Sears, who will promptly examine all articles sent, cheerfully returning, if desired, such as may not be deemed suitable.
